

American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy AACP
Discover • Learn • Care: Improve Health

EAFP EUROPEAN ASSOCIATION OF FACULTIES OF PHARMACY

FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT

Workshop organised by the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy (AACCP), European Association of Faculties of Pharmacy (EAFP), Department of Pharmacy University of Malta

Curriculum Design and Updating for Clinical Pharmacy Teaching

19-20 September, 2017

Venue: Malta

Target Group

The course is intended for teams comprised of faculty members, preceptors, teacher practitioners and pharmacists who are involved in development and elaboration of courses related to clinical pharmacy teaching at undergraduate, graduate and postgraduate level.

Course Aim

The aim of the course is to provide participants with an insight into aspects of curriculum design, methods of teaching and assessment, and incorporation of hands-on experience in the teaching using a team-based approach. Teams will create a plan of action for enhancing these areas and initiating change at their home institution. The course is also intended to stimulate the development of a network of clinical pharmacy educators.

Contacts

Prof Lilian M. Azzopardi
Michael J. Rouse
Dr John C. Ressler

lilian.m.azzopardi@um.edu.mt mrouse@acpe-accredit.org
jressler@aacp.org

Preliminary Needs Assessment Survey

1. Role in institution

Academic	Clinical pharmacist	Teacher practitioner
Practice researcher	Other (please specify)

2. What features would you like to see in this course:

Curriculum design	Teaching methods	Case-based learning
Bedside-teaching	Curriculum delivery	Student assessment

Send your replies to: maresca.attard-pizzuto@um.edu.mt